Imagine Summer Ready Spaces

A Public Space Readiness Guide for Peak Season

Cleaner spaces. Better places.

Summer is one of the most visible seasons for public spaces. Communities become gathering places. Visitors create energy. Operations teams work hard behind the scenes. And every interaction shapes how people experience a place.

This guide is designed to help communities prepare for the season ahead.

Experience

Prepare spaces people want to spend more time in.

- Identify seasonal hotspots
- Evaluate gathering spaces
- Review parks and recreation readiness
- Prepare waterfront and tourism areas
- Assess overflow risk

Ask: Does our community feel welcoming?

Operations

Support smoother experiences.

- Review servicing plans
- Improve operational visibility
- Identify inefficiencies
- Prepare for seasonal demand
- Reduce unnecessary disruption

Ask: Can our teams operate more proactively?

Community Moments

Support events, recreation, and gathering.

- Prepare for events and festivals
- Plan for seasonal traffic
- Support guest experiences
- Review flexible capacity needs

Ask: Are we prepared for moments that bring people together?

Final Reflection

Public spaces shape how communities feel.

When places are cleaner, experiences improve. When operations run smoothly, people stay longer. When infrastructure supports everyday moments, communities thrive.

Imagine Summer Ready Spaces.

Cleaner spaces. Better places.

Where Life Happens.

All Together Better.

Sustainability

Make participation simple.

- Improve recycling visibility
- Explore compost opportunities
- Reduce contamination
- Reinforce sustainability goals

Ask: Are sustainable choices easy to make?
